GRAND PIANOS

ESTABLISHED 1834

149 West 42nd St., New York.

Represented by Raymond & Willoughby Brooklyn.

EXECUTIVE MANSION,

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 3, 1874.

Mr. F. G. SMITH,

DEAR SIR,—The Bradbury Piano, for which I sent my Square Grand Checkering in part pay and now enclose you my check for the balance, gives entire satisfaction.

Mrs. Grant wishes me also to say that the Square Grand Bradbury Piano, for which she exchanged in part pay five years ago her Steinway Piano, still gives the greatest satisfaction to her and her many friends who perform upon it in the parlors of the Executive Mansion, and having such great confidence in your celebrated Bradbury Pianos, and after having been performed upon and tested by some of the first musicians of Washington, their opinion is unqualified approbation for the Bradbury Piano, she has therefore requested me to order another of your celebrated Bradbury Piano for the President's Cottage at Long Branch.

I am very truly yours, O. E. BABCOCK

Secretary to the President, and in charge of Public Works

EXPLANATION OF CALENDAR PAGES.

The Publisher of this Almanac, with a view to increase its circulation and usefulness, has adapted its calculations for the whole country. The Moon's changes are given for five different places, viz.: Quebec, Montreal, Pembroke, Toronto, and London. The rising and setting of the Sun are given for Montreal and Toronto. The rising and setting of the Moon are given with sufficient exactness for all practical purposes. The weather prognostications are again calculated according to the table of the celebrated Dr. Herschel; and for extraordinary accuracy Miller's Almanac retains its wonderful popularity.

JANUARY.—We give prominence to the words of the Governor-General, relating to the benefits of immigration on the class of agriculturists. He says: "I have met no one who did not gladly acknowledge himself better off than on his first arrival, and among thousands of persons with whom I have been brought into contact, none seemed ever to regret that they had come here. Undoubtedly their hardships had been very great, the difficulties of climate and locality frequently discouraging; their personal privations most severe; but the language of all was identical, evincing, without exception, pride in the past, content with the present, and hope in the future. Let a man be sober, healthy, and industrious, not afraid of hard work, and I can scarcely conceive how he should fail in his career."

FEBRUARY.—It is a great mistake to suppose that the business of the farmer requires less care and judgment than any other pursuit. Some have talked in a way that shows how deficient they are in knowledge of the true qualifications of a good farmer. If a man fails in other pursuits it is suggested that he had better take to farming. Such a man might possibly succeed, but there is hardly a chance of his so doing, simply because a successful agriculturist requires first, a real taste and preference for it. He must have sound judgment as respects times and places and methods of working. He must have and exercise discrimination about soils and seeds and their relations. Then it demands a good deal of skill and experience in all matters relating to cattle, horses and sheep. In short a farmer should have a first-class intellect.

MARCH.—Farmers in Ontario and Quebec have a great many difficulties to contend with, but if they will just consider how much worse off their confreres are in many other countries, they will find sufficient reasons for thankfulness. We have sometimes short crops and early frosts, curtailing our incomes and increasing our expenses. But let us look at Minnesota and Manitoba with their periodical plague of grasshoppers. The stories of the past seasons are almost incredible. It appears the creatures came in clouds so dense that the sunlight was entirely shut off. These, in one day, in one district of Minnesota, utterly devoured three thousand one hundred acres of wheat. Two years ago hailstorms destroyed the crops, and for two years in succession the grasshopper. Hard times there.

APRIL.—A word about health. In rural districts there is often a good deal of intermittent and other fevers, by which the lives of many are destroyed. How is this? Is not the country healthier than the city? As a general rule it is, but in the country there is too frequently a careless inattention to the laws of health. During the day there may be exposure to heat, producing perspiration. When the cool breezes of the evening spring up there is great temptation to sit down, and quietly enjoy the delightful atmosphere. This is done without putting on any additional clothing. The effect is a chill. It is thought nothing of, and the same foolish course is followed another day, and another. The whole system in this way becomes disordered and the foundations of fevers are laid. Beware of chills, avoid cold drafts and regulate your clothing according to circumstances.

MAY.—It is generally agreed that bread made from wheat flour is more strengthening than bread made from barley or oats. The reason is thus stated; because, as gluten, albumen, and caseine are the only substances in the bread capable of forming blood, and consequently sustaining the strength and vigor of the body, they have been appropriately called the food of nutrition, as a distinction from those which merely support respiration. Wheat contains eight hundred and twenty-five parts of starch, three hundred and fifteen of gluten, albumen and caseine, and sixty of sugar and gum, while barely contains 1,200 of starch, 120 of gluten, albumen and caseine, and 160 of sugar. Wheat is, therefore, much richer in the food of nutrition.

JUNE.—A very short arithmetical calculation will enable any one to apply the statement of the Rural World to this Canada of ours. That valuable journal says: When we consider that less than one-third of the area of the United States, and less than a fifth of the entire domain of the United States is mapped into farms, and remember of this farm area, only one-fourth is tilled or mowed; and when we further reflect that the average yield per acre could be doubled if the many could be brought up to the plain of the few in the practice of intensive culture; then we begin to realize what numbers our country is capable of feeding, and what waste of toil and effort comes from neglect of the economic lessons taught by the statistics of scientific agriculture. The misfortune is, that so few think on this subject, and many who think and know, will not practically exert themselves.

JULY.—Why do so many farmers treat their horses and colts so much better than their cows and heifers? Care is taken of the former in regard to stabling and feeding, while the cows and heifers have to shift for themselves and are often exposed to severe storms, fed on coarse straw. A cow that is poorly fed cannot give much milk, nor milk of a good quality. Milk is among the most nutritious of all the substances we consume, and cannot be manufactured from food that does not contain nutritious substances. We have heard of farmers telling their wives not to give corn to the cows, because it dries them up. It is not so, and the women show proper sense when they give good food to the cows, even though the husband should grumble. Good feeding to milch cows pays quite as well and better than almost any other animal.

AUGUST.—On the subject of profit arising from the proper treatment of milch cows, let it be remembered, that the average value of milk in town and country is six cents a quart. Suppose a cow to give three gallons a day, that would bring 72 cents, or nearly 22 dollars per month, as the value of her product. What other animal will make such generous returns for food, care, and generous feeding. Sound policy, therefore, demands cleanliness, good food, and proper shelter. Besides, every farmer knows, or ought to know, that the quality and quantity of manure which the farm requires depends on attention to the matter on which we have here written. An Englishman says, the more we feed the more we can produce, but he certainly means we should do the feeding on our own land or premises, and not on the king's highway. That is absolute folly and loss.

SEPTEMBER.—An agriculturist has just given us his opinion about potatoes and their planting. He says he was educated to plant three or four good sized potatoes in a hill. Now, he knows better, and recommends cutting. Have the ground in good condition, plant at the right time, and then give them proper attention. He says, three years ago I planted one bushel each of Early Rose and Brigham seedlings, and dug of each kind thirty-two bushels of marketable potatoes. Have been in the habit of cutting my seed as I would to plant, yet I think it would be better to cut a few days before using, so that they may become glazed. Of all the varieties I have tried, I prefer the Early Rose. They are not only better in quality, but equal in quantity.

OCTOBER.—There have been great differences of opinion concerning the virtues of orchard grass. This, like most other things, is settled by experiment. A writer in the Philadelphia Press says that he has had a field of orchard grass over 30 years, that still gives bounteous crops breast high at maturity. The soil is strong, sandy loam. It was originally seeded in connection with red clover and timothy, which were long ago run out. There is now annually some white clover and blue grass which aids to make a thick bottom growth. The orchard grass, however, maintains the ascendancy, and he knows of nothing, alfalfa excepted, which will yield annually so much cattle food. But it is even superior to alfalfa or lucern as it is sometimes called, because better adapted to the rigorous temperature of northern latitudes. The facts herein recited, are worth remembering.

NOVEMBER.—Theory, based on experience, respecting raising pork, has been furnished by a correspondent, who says, during the hot summer months I would give very solid food, such as corn in the ear or uncracked. I would keep hogs on green food constantly, either grass, oats, or rye; and feed them at regular intervals, once or twice a day upon mashed food, either shorts, chopped oats, or rye, or buckwheat, &c., fed in troughs. When fed in this way and at the same time allowed access to water and shade, then they will make flesh. This also puts them in good condition for corn feeding, which should commence about the first of September, when the new crop is new and tender. Treated in this way, there is no doubt about hogs flourishing.

THE OSBORN

FIRST PRIZE

Sewing Machines.

THE principal points of merit in over all others is the excellence and simplicity of its mechanism, the material employed in its construction, its lasting qualities, and the wide range of work performed, such as no other machine of its class can attempt. The shuttle and bobbins are larger; the needle short and straight, and easily set; it has the best four motion parallel under-feed, and carries the work from the operator. It is tested on a wider range of work, while the adjustment is such that it cannot get out of order. It is easy of access to all the working parts and oiling. The feet can be raised and lowered at will, according to fabric to be used.

THE OSBORN

Its mechanical arrangements and proportions are admitted by the best authorities to be perfect.

EVERY FAMILY SHOULD BE POSSESSED OF A

FIRST CLASS SEWING MACHINE,

And that can be accomplished by

PURCHASING AN OSBORN,

Which is so built that it is impossible to get out of order, and will last a lifetime.

For sale in all the principal cities, towns and villages in Canada, and by travelling Agents.

DECEMBER.—Various opinions have been expressed about the uses and advantages of lime as applied to the soil. Some maintain that lime should be applied as soon after harvest as possible and upon wheat stubble. This is said to help the grass crops, puts the ground into good condition for corn, and does not make oats ripen unevenly. Another practical man says he obtained most profit by applying lime on the sod, the winter before the corn is planted. Another says, crisply, "Get it on, never mind where, but get it on." Another says he applied a handful of airslacked lime to the hill of corn after it was up, with marked benefit. The same, also says, he made a mixture of 50 bushels of lime, 10 bushels of plaster, and 6 bushels of salt. He dissolved the salt and slacked the lime with the brine. He sowed the mixture on twelve acres of grass in the spring and had a fine crop on land poorly set.

ADVICE IN CASE OF DROWNING.

The following rules are adopted by the New York Board of Health:—

RULE I. Upon the nearest dry spot expose the patient to a free current of air, strip the clothing away from the waist, and give a stinging slap upon the pit of the stomach.

[If this fails to arouse the patient, proceed to force and drain away the water which has entered the chest and stomach, according to Rule II.]

DRAINING THE WATER FROM THE CHEST.—RULE II. Turn the patient upon his face, the pit of the stomach being raised upon a folded garment above the level of the mouth. For a moment or two make steady pressure upon the back of the stomach and chest, and repeat it once or twice, until fluid ceases to flow from the mouth.

RULE III. Quickly turn the patient on his back, with the bundle of clothing beneath it so as to raise the lower part of his breastbone higher than the rest of the body. Kneel beside or astride the patient and so place your hands upon either side of the pit of the stomach, upon the front part of the lower ribs that the fingers will fall naturally into the spaces between them, and point towards the ground.

Now grasping the waist and using your knees as a pivot, throw your whole weight forward, as if you wished to force the contents of the chest and stomach out of the mouth. Steadily increase the pressure while you count ONE—TWO—THREE—; then SUDDENLY LET GO, with a final push which brings you back to an erect kneeling position; remain erect upon your knees while you count ONE—TWO—then throw your weight forward, and proceed again as before. Repeat the process at first five times a minute, gradually increasing it to about fifteen times a minute, and continue it with the regularity and rhythm of the natural breathing which you are imitating, if necessary, for about an hour.

If another person be present let him with the left hand hold the tip of the tongue out of the left side of the mouth with the corner of a pocket-handkerchief, while with the right hand he grasps both wrists and pins them to the ground above the patient's head.

AFTER TREATMENT.—When breathing first returns, dash violently a little cold water occasionally on the face. As soon as breathing has been perfectly restored strip and dry the patient rapidly and completely, and rap him in blankets only. Give hot brandy and water, the first half hour a teaspoonful every five minutes, and for the next hour a tablespoonful every fifteen minutes. Apply friction to the limbs if cold. Secure a free supply of fresh air, and let the patient have perfect REST.

PRACTICAL SUGGESTIONS (WHAT TO AVOID AND PREVENT.—AVOID DELAY.—Promptness is the first consideration. A moment lost may be a life lost. Waste no time in gaining shelter; it oftener harms than helps the patient.

Prevent crowding around the patient, and everything which interferes with a free current of fresh air. However difficult this may be, it must be possibly enforced. The anxious efforts of kind friends to engage the patient in conversation when he is rallying and everything else which tends to increase his exhaustion, must be interdicted.

Avoid giving fluids before the patient is well able to swallow. When given too soon they must obstruct breathing, and may choke the patient.

Avoid hurried and irregular motions. The excitement of the occasion is almost certain to induce this. Move a flickering candle carelessly and it goes out; and the heart, when its beating has almost ceased, needs but tittle interruption to stop it. All the movements of Rule III. should be performed with steadiness and rhythm, and especially so when the compression is made as an adjunct to help the first natural gasps, and deepen them into long drawn breaths.

Avoid an over-heated room. The animal heat which is needed must be generated from within by the respiration of the air and by stimulants, and retained by blankets.

Avoid giving up too soon the patient to death. Any time within one or two hours you may be on the very threshold of success, though there be no sign of it. The author has several times succeeded after a half an hour of apparently useless effort. Do not neglect the patient too soon after apparent recovery; rest and care should be maintained for a few days, or pulmonary troubles may ensue.

WINTERING CABBAGE.—To keep cabbage through the winter, pack in sawdust in the barn, and allow the whole to freeze, the sawdust being such a non-conductor of heat that once it becomes frozen through, it will not thaw out until well into April, and cabbage will come out almost as nice as when put in.

STRONG ENDORSEMENT

OF THE

BRADBURY PIANO

BY THE

MUSICAL PROFESSION.

The Musical Profession of the City of New York have, with most unprecedented unanimity, awarded to WM. B. BRADBURY the highest meed of praise, for his new and beautiful Piano Fortes. They state, among other highly complimentary notices, that they have examined with much care Wm. B. Bradbury's new Scale Piano Fortes, and it is their opinion, that in power, purity, richness, quality of tone, and thorough workmanship, Mr. Bradbury's instruments excel.

"We find great brilliancy and beautiful singing quality of tone most happily blended. We have rarely seen a square Piano combine so many of these qualities, so essential to a perfect instrument."

ROSSIN HOUSE, TORONTO, Nov. 14th, 1872.

Messrs. R. & H. O'HARA,
BOWMANVILLE.

GENTLEMEN,—I have much pleasure in testifying to the excellent qualities of the Bradbury Piano, supplied by you for my Concert, at Bowmanville.

Both as a Solo Instrument, and as an accompaniment to the human voice, the tone is at once sweet, brilliant and powerful.

I remain, Gentlemen,

Very respectfully,

ROSA D'ERINA.

GENTLEMEN,—The Bradbury Piano, purchased from you about a year ago, manufactured by F. G. Smith & Co., New York, has given excellent satisfaction. In tone and finish it is equal to the best Pianos of the best makers I have seen, and very much superior to many of them.

Yours truly,

D. WATERS.

GENTLEMEN,—I am very much pleased with my "Bradbury" I would not exchange it for any Steinway or Chickering Piano I have seen. It is beautifully finished, and very brilliant in tone. I can recommend it to any of my friends who may wish to purchase a First-class Piano.

JAMES McCCLUNG,

GENTS.—The Bradbury Piano (which took the First Prize at our Central Show), purchased from you, has given excellent satisfaction. It has been examined by many professional and amateur pianists, and all pronounce it an unrivalled instrument. In tone it is, at the same time powerful and mellow, exceedingly rich, and answering the slightest touch of the finger with remarkable precision. In workmanship and finish, I regard it as superior to any I have ever examined. I have much pleasure in recommending the "Bradbury" to all in want of a First-class Instrument.

Yours respectfully,

JOHN C. McLAGAN.

DEAR SIRS,—It gives me great pleasure to inform you that the Bradbury Piano I purchased from you gives great satisfaction, and is a very beautiful piece of workmanship, and is acknowledged to be a very fine toned Piano.

An instrument of this kind reflects great credit on the manufacturers. I have no doubt you will find a large sale for these Pianos in Canada, and would be pleased to know that you had placed one in every Canadian home, where a first-class Piano would be appreciated.

Yours truly,
R. M. WANZER.

HON. JOHN SIMPSON'S OPINION OF THEIR MERITS.

ONTARIO BANK,
Bowmanville, Sept. 5th, 1870.

Messrs. R. & H. O'HARA,
General Agents,
Bowmanville.

DEAR SIRS,—The Piano purchased from you some six months ago, manufactured by Messrs. F. G. Smith & Co., New York, (successors to W. B. Bradbury, of the same city), for whom you are General Agents, is giving great satisfaction; and is, in my opinion, and in the opinion of many competent judges, a first-class instrument.

As far as the workmanship is concerned, it is equal to the best Chickering; and is, in my opinion, superior to the instruments made by this firm, in richness and fullness of tone; and it is equal, if not superior, in both respects, to the instruments manufactured by Stoddard & Dunham or Dunham. I may mention that I have purchased, for myself and friends, several Pianos manufactured by the old firm of Stoddard & Dunham, and have still one of theirs in my home.

Yours,
J. SIMPSON.

FROM W. THOMPSON, ESQ., VICE-PRESIDENT OF THE ROYAL CANADIAN BANK.
TORONTO, 15th March, 1870.

Messrs. R. & H. O'HARA,

GENTLEMEN,—I purchased, about ten years ago, one of Bradbury's Pianos—the first consigned to this market. It is acknowledged by professionals to be a remarkably fine-toned instrument; and I may also mention that, having been removed several times during that period, it has only required tuning twice.

Yours truly,
WILLIAM THOMPSON,

Return thanks for the liberal patronage extended to them, and the flattering and encouraging letters from Customers and Agents throughout the Dominion, having just completed their new Factory, and placed in it all the modern machinery necessary for the business. As in the past, they will continue to use the very best material and seasoned lumber, employ none but first-class workmen, turning out organs unequalled by any manufactory in Canada, and equal to the best first-class American instruments, and at a much lower price. Their organs have all the modern improvements. And having secured the services of PROF. A. P. TERRY, as principal Tuner, (whose fifteen years' experience in the United States has made him perfect master of the art of voicing and tuning reeds), so that purchasers can rely on each instrument possessing that brilliancy and sweetness of tone so desirable in Organs and Melodeons.
